

ALLIES OUTNUMBERED CENTRAL POWERS 2 TO 1 AS WAR ENDED

Aggregate Strength of Germany and Associates Was 7,630,000

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The central powers faced odds of greater than two to one in mobilized troops when Germany gave up the fight last November. The estimated aggregate strength of the enemy powers at that time, according to official estimates made public today by General March, chief of staff, was 7,630,000. The indicated aggregate allied strength on the date was more than 16,700,000.

This situation is disclosed in the figures received by the war department from France giving the present status of the belligerent armies. They show that the central powers on March 1 had under arms 1,125,000 men while the allied forces aggregated 13,366,000.

Following is General March's statement:

"We have received from France some rather interesting figures about the demobilization of the central powers and the demobilization of the entire allied forces to include February. The demobilization is still going on, but the figures show what has been happening over there. The central powers figures are:

Estimated strength on Nov. 11.	By February, Reduced to.
Bulgaria	500,000 125,000
Germany	4,500,000 820,000
Turkey	400,000 70,000
Austria	2,230,000 106,000

"The total force of the central powers on November 11, was estimated at 7,630,000. This has been reduced, to include February, to 1,125,000, or to 15 per cent of their strength. On the same day on which this report was made, the strength of the allied forces was 13,366,000, or 75 per cent of the strength which they had on November 11."

Turning to the demobilization of the American army, General March said that the second anniversary of the entrance of the United States into the world war found the restoration of American manhood to civil life more than 40 per cent complete. On returns up to April 1, the army had been reduced to an aggregate strength of 2,055,718. For that force General March has set a mark of 310,000 discharges a month toward which progress is being made. Actual discharges up to and including April 5 aggregated 1,624,171 officers and men. "Every state in the union," General March said, "is welcoming its returning sons—the finest types of American manhood, clean and virile and deserving the thanks of the American people."

Always Look Your Best Says Golden Apple Girl

How to Make Hubby Come Home Explained by Miss Hyde

By Edith Hyde

"The Girl of the Golden Apple"

It is a good rule for all women—but it is positively vital for married women to say Always Look Your Best.

If a married woman will always look her best when hubby comes home, he WILL ALWAYS COME HOME!

Seriously, it is the duty of every woman to study her personality, her figure, her type of beauty, and dress, talk, and act upon it. If you have not good taste, it will pay you to hire someone who has to advise you on what to wear and what not to wear. A good dressmaker, an intelligent hairdresser, and wise selection of underthings as well as overthings will do more to make your home an attractive place for the man now occupies it with you than anything else I know of.

There is one formula that I know of, which if every married woman would adopt, might create a great deal more happiness than exists today. It is this: ALWAYS DRESS FOR YOUR HUSBAND AS YOU DID WHEN HE WAS YOUR LOVER. No matter whether you are very beautiful or very plain, you surely have some one or more good points of which you can make the best. If you have a plain face but beautiful arms and shoulders, let your dressmaker make you gowns that display your arms and shoulders. If you have a pretty face, but a scrawny neck, cover your neck with soft filmy material—and busy yourself in exercises and massages to fill out the scrawny neck.

Wear pretty things for your husband. Many a husband looks at his stenographer's silk stockings, because his wife insists on wearing cotton ones! Many a married mad admires a chic gown on some other woman, because his wife keeps on her house dress to receive him in when he comes home in the evening.

Be beautiful for your husband; and if you can't be beautiful, be as beautiful as you can.

UNION MEN PLAN TO RECALL GEO. SMITH

PHOENIX, April 5.—The ballots have been sent out in the movement to recall George D. Smith, secretary of the state federation of labor, according to an announcement here tonight.

The first vote reported was that of the carpenters' union of Phoenix, which is said to have gone 42 to 30 in support of Smith and against the recall. In the cooks and waiters' union here, one of those which originated the movement, it was stated that the vote split practically even.

Smith is charged by those behind the recall movement with having used the labor journal for his own ends.

HINES SAYS PRESENT PRICES ARE TOO HIGH

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Controversy between the railroad administration and coal operators represented in the National Coal association, as to price fixing, was said by Director General Hines in a statement tonight to have narrowed down to the question of "whether the public now wants new government prices established so as to keep coal at high price levels." Such price fixing, he asserted, would keep up the cost of living and "continue to produce in the aggregate abnormal profits to the coal operators."

KILBANE DEFEATS O'LEARY
PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—John Kilbane, featherweight champion, defeated Artie O'Leary of New York in a six round bout here tonight. Kilbane had the best of every round and the New Yorker was tired and hanging to the ropes at the finish.

MINING MEN OPPOSE LAWS INTRODUCED IN MEXICAN CONGRESS

Discrimination Against Large Producers of Ore Is Charge

EL PASO, April 5.—Two proposed mining bills will be submitted to the Mexican national congress when it meets May 1. Copies of the two proposed mining laws which appear in the book on parallel columns were received here today. One was drafted by the mining department of the ministry of commerce, industries and labor and the other by the mining commission of the National Industrial congress held in Mexico City in 1918.

The former proposes to prohibit foreign corporations from holding claims within 100 kilometers of the border or 50 kilometers of the seacoast and otherwise restricts mining development by foreign interests. The commission's bill favors for regulation of investments and development, one paragraph reading:

"The so-called question of nationalism arose and in the hope that, sooner or later, the need of the country to remedy the economic crisis which is holding back development and national reconstruction would force the adoption of measures to encourage the investments of foreign capital, the undersigned confined themselves to proposing that the rights of foreign individuals and companies to acquire mines should be governed by the law applying to foreign relations."

"We hold that a mining law should

FAMOUS LOVE STORY CLEOPATRA AT EAGLE THEATER TODAY

William Fox will present Theda Bara in "Cleopatra," the widely heralded film version of the loves of Egypt's siren queen, at the Eagle theater, commencing today, with complete music score.

Described as a film spectacle of surpassing beauty, "Cleopatra" bares on the screen the passions of the vampire of the Nile. The ancient siren is said to be admirably impersonated by the foremost modern exponent of siren roles. The filmed "Cleopatra" depicts that lady's historical encounters with Caesar and Antony, and the meeting of her army and that of Antony with the forces of Octavius. It shows, as well, the world's first naval battle—the battle of Actium—where the combined fleets of Antony and Cleopatra were routed and finally burned to the water's edge by the Romans.

Ancient Rome and Alexandria were recreated in California, where "Cleopatra" was filmed under the direction of J. Gordon Edwards. The Roman Forum was reproduced and there is shown the death of Caesar. Cleopatra's famous barge once again moves majestically over the water, and the famous feasts of Egypt's queen, those feasts which by their extravagance dazzled the eyes of Caesar, and later of Antony, are shown in all their sumptuousness.

Thrilling chariot races across the desert sands, the hand to hand conflict of spear-armed soldiers, an dthe triumphal entry of Octavius' troops into Alexandria, all are shown, while the Sphinx and the Pyramids look down on the scene as they did thousands of years ago.

And in the person of Theda Bara, the Cleopatra of ancient Egypt lives again. Adv.

not be converted into a law governing for regulation relations."

A provision in the mining department's proposed bill require smelters and mills to publish their tariffs and to accept all customs ores at the same price for the same grade, regardless of quantity. This, local mining men say, would be a discrimination against the large producers in favor of the small mine owners. This clause is opposed by the industrial congress commission.

All claims must be worked or forfeited if this bill becomes a law. This would be confiscatory, mining men say.

HUMBOLDT MINES SHIP 720,000 LBS. COPPER

The Blue Bell and De Soto mines shipped to the reduction plant at Humboldt a total of 12,700 tons of ore during March. The concentrator handled 3550 tons, while the smelter proper treated 9100 tons of new metal-bearing material. Shipments of copper bullion to the east amounted to 720,000 pounds copper.

The operations of the company were almost entirely confined to treating domestic material, as custom shipments have been extremely light recently owing to the depression in the copper market.
